If you’re interested in applying your emergency specialist skills in a new and flexible way, talk to us.

Across the country, Australians are turning to hospitals and ambulance services as a first port of call for acute medical conditions. Limited staff and overwhelming workloads, combined with an ageing population make telemedicine a logical way of meeting patients’ needs, alleviating pressure on hospitals, and ultimately lowering the cost of care.

My Emergency Doctor is the leading Australian emergency telemedicine service redefining emergency medical care. We are Australia’s first telemedicine service exclusively staffed by FACEMs.

Established in 2016,
our FACEMs have managed
more than 50,000 calls for emergency care, anytime and from anywhere.

Hospitals, urgent care centres and ambulance services call on us as specialists in acute care to help manage overflow, when they are at capacity, or when advice is needed for a patient who becomes acutely unwell, often after hours. We partner with rural and remote healthcare services, and with Primary Health Networks to ensure Australians have access to an emergency specialist whenever they call, and wherever they are.

What you can expect from us

We will provide you with the training and support you need to become a successful telehealth clinician in order to deliver the best outcomes for patients, their families and healthcare services.

We reward loyalty and commitment with generous remuneration packages including above market rates. Talk to us about the additional benefits we provide.

What we ask of you

We recruit FACEMs with a minimum of one year experience and we prioritise and reward those who can commit to a minimum of one regular 4-hour shift per week, and be part of our on-call roster. You will share the same loyalty and commitment to your work, to our goals, and to patients’ and clients’ needs.

You will provide quality and effective acute care via telemedicine and you will support patients, carers and onsite clinicians.

Want to work abroad?

We are also looking for FACEMs based overseas or intending to do so, to help us cover our overnight roster.

Talk to us if you are looking for a family-friendly career break, and the opportunity to earn while living overseas. Work daylight hours only in the country you are in, as part of a friendly, international team of doctors and support staff.

We will provide opportunities to complete activities that contribute to CPD.

My Emergency Doctor can help FACEMs of every background, living in any part of the world, have the lifestyle they want.
